

KAPOW PICTURES AND STUDIO B PRODUCTIONS PRESENT

yakkity yak

THE ANIMATED SERIES OF 52 EPISODES OF 11 MINUTES

yakkity yak

CREATED BY KAPOW PICTURES, AUSTRALIA

First Floor 21 CHANDOS ST, ST LEONARDS, SYDNEY, NSW AUSTRALIA 2065
PH - +61 2 9438 1805 FAX - +61 2 9437 0805 email - originate@kapowpictures.com.au

DEVELOPED BY KAPOW PICTURES AND STUDIO B PRODUCTIONS

190 ALEXANDER ST. Suite 600, VANCOUVER B.C. CANADA V6A 1B5
PH - +60 4 684 2363 FAX - +60 4 602 0208 web - www.studiobproductions.com

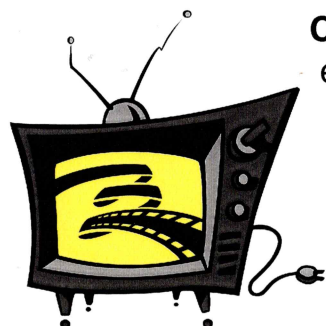

EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS:

TIM BROOKE - HUNT, PACIFIC VISION AUSTRALIA

PH - +61 2 4267 5171 FAX - +61 2 4268 3538 email - timbh@bigpond.com

CHRIS BARTLEMAN & KAREN POWELL, STUDIO B PRODUCTIONS CANADA

email - chris@studiobproductions.com email - kpowell@studiobproductions.com

yakkity yak

THE ORIGINAL ANIMATED SERIES

Everyone seeks attention. Some kids strive for the honour roll. Some kids score touchdowns. Other kids wear black and get tattoos. And then there's always one kid who is the class clown...

Imagine what Jim Carrey was like as a teenager. Now imagine that kind of manic energy sitting next to you in class in the form of... a Yak.

Meet Yakkity Yak.

Yakkity is more than just the class clown. He's a comedian. Just ask him, he'll tell you. Actually, just go near him, he'll tell you.

That's because Yakkity is determined to see his name in lights and he uses any and all of life's situations as a vehicle for comic buffoonery in hopes of getting the attention and popularity he feels he deserves.

Unfortunately, there's something standing in the way of Yakkity's dream. It's called reality. And the reality is that he's an ordinary teenager living in the small town of Lambton... smack dab in the middle of nowhere.

And in the middle of nowhere, nobody can hear you dream.

It's a long, hard, joy-buzzer strewn road out of Lambton County to comedic fame and fortune, but Yakkity Yak is determined to get there, one hoof at a time.

SERIES OUTLINE

Growing up in Lambton is no piece of cake. It may be strange, but it's still a boring small town. The pace is slow and for a teenager with lots of energy, you can go nuts just trying to find something to do. One such unfortunate is Yakkity Yak.

A young misfit Yak, Yakkity finds himself stuck in Lambton, living with his Grandmother. But Yakkity is that rare animal: a Yak with dreams. He has a plan to escape the teenage angst and ennui that so plagues his friends and acquaintances: he wants to be a superstar comedian. However, his achievements so far are limited to being the unpopular class clown, mostly ignored football team mascot, and resident punching bag for the team's captain, Rondo.

Several months ago, Yakkity's dream came a step closer when his best friend Keo told him about the Trilo Entertainment Agency, a new company dedicated to promoting top notch Lambtonian talent like ex-wrestler Chuck Damage and elfin impersonator Fairy Wanda. When Yakkity heard the news he couldn't sleep for a week.

Yakkity took every opportunity to develop his limited comedic talent. Bathroom mirrors, classmates, family, friends, teachers, and even crowded bus stops full of complete strangers were all unwilling audiences for his pathetic punch lines. No one was safe. At last, our bovine bozo succeeded in getting the reluctant attention of Mr. Trilo himself.

Now, this small time agent gets Yakkity one off gigs at children's birthday parties, retirement homes, and funerals - "one off" because Yakkity never gets asked back. Let's face it, Yakkity is a work in progress.

Still, for a dull town, there never seems to be a dull moment in the life of our wanna-be star. Yakkity turns every moment into an opportunity to get noticed. He never misses a chance to hone his comedic 'craft' and bask in the adulation of his fans. Yeah, right.

In the beginning of the series, the scene is set in Lambton and introduces our viewers to the eccentric characters who live there. We'll see Yakkity and his buddy, Keo, face everyday life in their small town.

Once the scene has been set, we'll delve deeper into the dynamics of our townsfolk. Yakkity becomes increasingly disgruntled as the football team's undervalued mascot and begins to see it as an impediment to his inevitable comedic fame and fortune. Finally, in a fit of megalomania, Yakkity convinces himself to quit his job as team mascot.

This decision will not go down well with the more superstitious citizens of Lambton. For many, Yakkity is the team's 'lucky charm'. After all, Yakkity's Grandfather was mascot during the winning provincial championship season. In spite of the naysayers, Yakkity attempts to go for his dream. He leaves Lambton behind aboard the Trilo Entertainment tour bus and heads for the bright lights of the big city.

It's often said that you never appreciate your Yak, until he's gone. And so the citizens of Lambton discover that it is Yakkity, their forgotten mascot, who drives their football team to its heights of athletic endeavor. Only the irritation of a fool on the sidelines can create that kind of winning fury. Without Yakkity's antics, the team spirit is gone. The crowds at the football games dwindle away to nothing as the team loses game after game. Keo is forced to beg Yakkity to return and face his true destiny. Yakkity will have to make the choice of a lifetime: mascot or comedian.

Given the fact that he's a failure as a big city comedian, Yakkity's choice is easy. He'll return to Lambton just in time for the provincial championships, cheer the team to victory, and at long last achieve the 15 minutes of fame and attention that he so desperately sought.

For most people this would be enough. But not Yakkity, no way. Deep in his heart, deep in his small, furry soul, Yakkity still thinks he has what it takes to be a superstar comedian. And no matter what adversity he faces, no matter how people try to ignore him, no matter how far away his dreams seem to be, Yakkity still believes that one day he'll have the whole world rolling in the aisles with gut-busting laughter.

LIFE IN LAMBTON COUNTY

Lambton is a small, unassuming town on the Canada/US border. It's a place where quiet farmlands meet huge lakeshore chemical industry. And it's the kind of place you quickly pass through on your way to somewhere more interesting. Lambton hasn't changed in decades and has become isolated and cut-off from the rest of the world. As a result, things have gotten a little strange around town. Not that any of the inhabitants would ever notice. Caught in their own unique time and place, Lambton County residents have fallen prey to eccentricity and small border town craziness.

The county museum, a forest of cobwebs, dust, and clunky dioramas of men drilling for oil, is the only place that attracts any visitors. Lambton is where oil was first discovered in North America. Occasionally the odd Texan or Albertan will make the pilgrimage to Lambton to buy an ounce of oil from North America's first oil well... then quickly jump back in their Cadillac and get on the highway.

Near the museum is the local school. Inside its uninspired architecture are the same ramshackle classrooms and extra squeaky chalkboards that have been used to teach the children of Lambton for decades. Outside the school, and under the shadow of the Kapow Chemical plant, is the pride and joy of the county: the football field, scene of Lambton's greatest moment... the day the Lambton High School football team won the provincial championship. It's fifty years later and people are still talking about it.

Like the candy store owned and operated by the Highpants family since 1822, most businesses on Main Street haven't changed much since the town was founded. And while the smell and taste of oil is gone from the air, the dust and pollution belched from the nearby factories lingers in much the same manner.

However, among the main street's retro billboards and tacky neon signs, you will find that one new business has recently opened: the Trilo Entertainment Agency. Opened by a mysterious newcomer, the Trilo Agency promises what everything else in Lambton fails to deliver: big city excitement. Only time will tell if the shiny, new sign will end up in the town dump.

It's safe to say, that Club Med it ain't. But Lambton is just the sort of oddball place that generates great comedy...

THE

"Well lookee here! It's pineapple-head and furball! Hey Yak, why don't you lie down so I can wipe my shoes off. Haw Haw."

"Now Yakkity, remember to shine your horns and wave your pom poms with pride like your Grandfather used to."

"Unngghh! Garr! Gnnurg!
I will CRUSH YOU!!!!"

"Whatever it is... I'm against it."

"My Dad told me to run if I ever see a blender."

"Hold your head high
Keo and never forget you come from the finest quality pineapples money can buy."

CAST

"Pay attention children! I shall now change this Yak into a handsome prince! Alla Kazeem! Oh no...magic doesn't always work children."

"Don't be silly Keo, they're hurling fruit because they're happy."

"Let me tell ya kid, I seen it all. I was with the circus once in Toronto, the fat lady she rolled over onto one of them midget clowns, the whole place went bezerk! It took three strongmen and an elephant to get her off. We could hear him honking his little horn from underneath. It was horrible."

"You didn't hear it from me Keo, but Rhondo saw you at the dance with his sister last night and he's put a bounty on your head. Care for a lolly?"

"I've factored the molecular density of the block of this Swiss cheese and I'll now combine it with a splash of nitroglycerin to create the ultimate party dip....BOOM!"

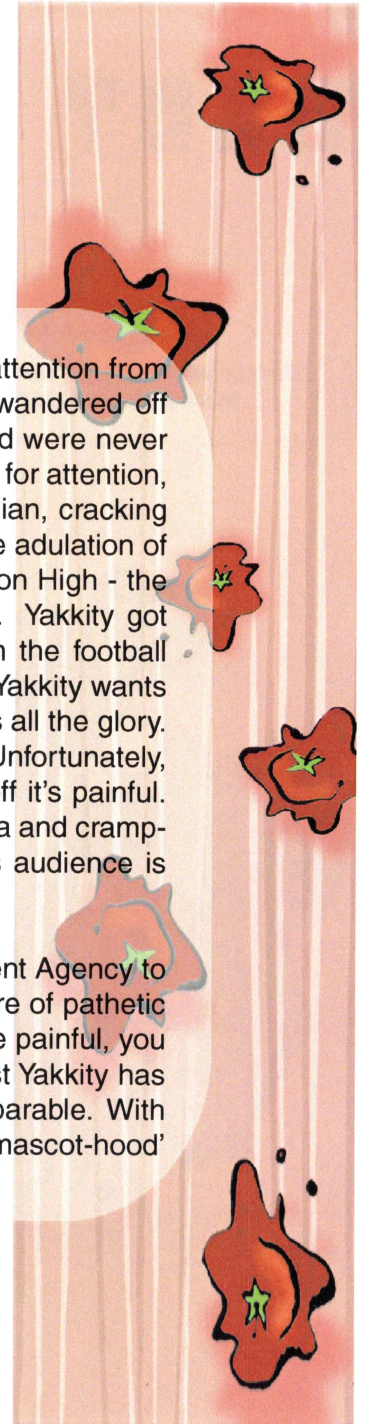

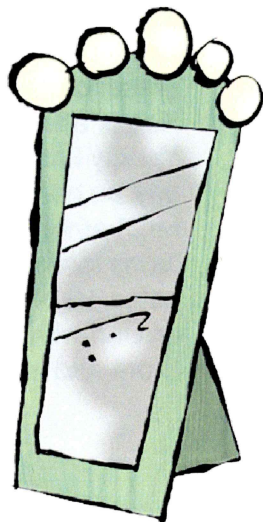

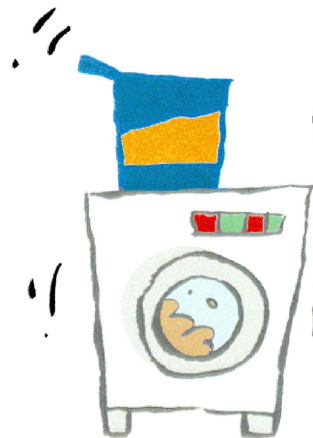

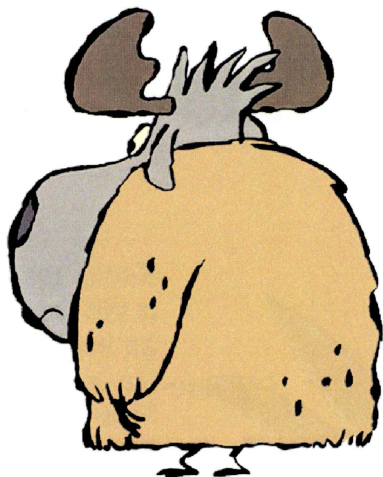

yakkity yak

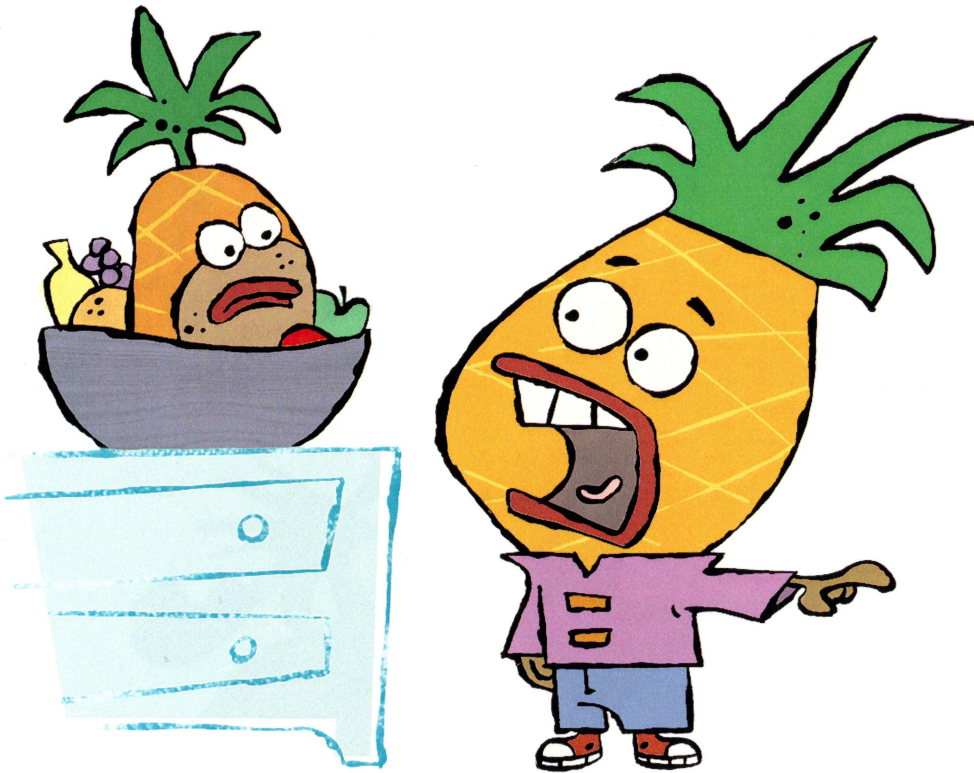

Yakkity was a cute, furry child and received lots of attention from his parents. Unfortunately, his mother and father wandered off into the mountains of Tibet to find some relatives and were never heard from again. Ever since then, Yakkity has pined for attention, for the spotlight. He longs to be a superstar comedian, cracking up his audience with clever quips and soaking up the adulation of the masses. In reality, Yakkity is a student at Lambton High - the class clown and undervalued football team mascot. Yakkity got the job because his Grandfather was mascot when the football team won the provincial championship in 1925. But Yakkity wants no part of this legacy. After all, the football team gets all the glory. Luckily, Yakkity has his dream of comedic fame. Unfortunately, Yakkity's jokes are horrible and his timing is so far off it's painful. Yakkity's 'routines' have been known to induce nausea and cramping of the brain. But Yakkity never realizes that his audience is cringing.

Every weekend, Yakkity goes to the Trilo Entertainment Agency to beg for a booking where he can perform his repertoire of pathetic punch lines. While Yakkity's sense of humour may be painful, you have to admire his dogged determinedness. At least Yakkity has good friend in his right-hand-man, Keo. They're inseparable. With Keo's help, Yakkity is sure to escape the burden of 'mascot-hood' and live out his dream on the stages of the world...

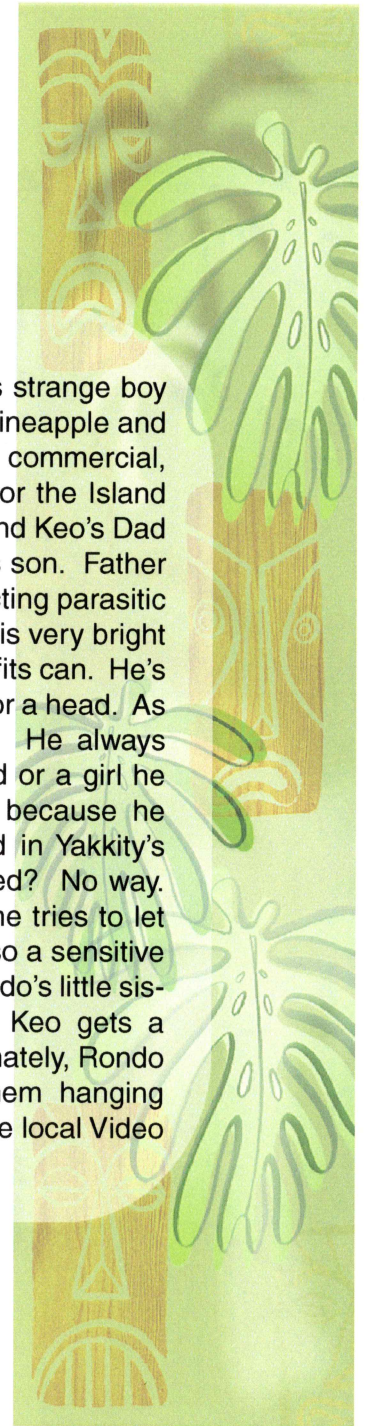

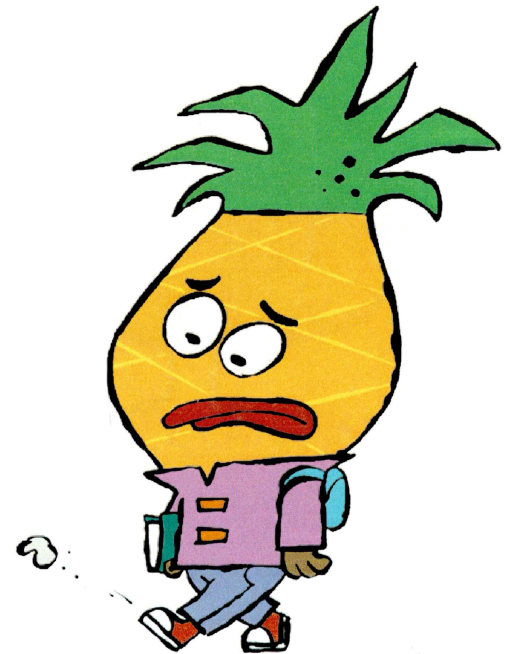

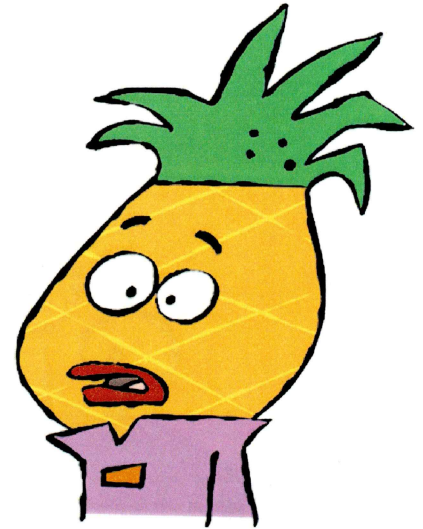

keo

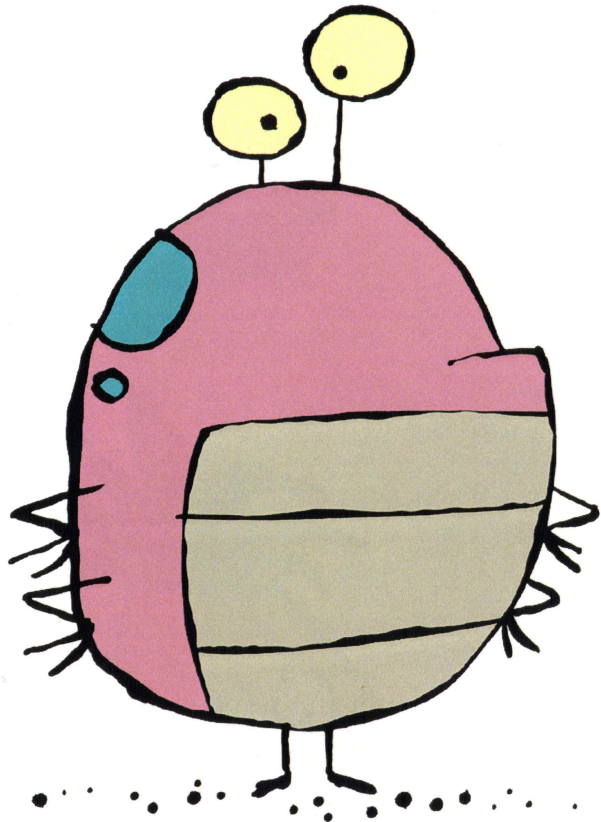

Keo is Yakkity's best pal and biggest fan. This strange boy is the result of an unnatural union between a pineapple and an actress. Keo's parents met on the set of a commercial, his father being the former spokesperson for the Island Fresh Pineapple Company. Scandal ensued and Keo's Dad fled to the sleepy town of Lambton to raise his son. Father and son are now stranded there due to contracting parasitic fruit flies and unable to leave the country. Keo is very bright and bonds with Yakkity in the way only two misfits can. He's shy and self-conscious of having a pineapple for a head. As a result of his appearance, Keo is a realist. He always seems to be embarrassed, usually by his Dad or a girl he likes. Keo enjoys hanging out with Yakkity because he makes Keo laugh. And who could be bored in Yakkity's presence? Angry and irritated, yes. But bored? No way. Keo is always aware of what's going on and he tries to let Yakkity know. It rarely gets through. Keo is also a sensitive guy, so he likes girls. In particular, he likes Rondo's little sister, Lemony. Whenever Lemony is around, Keo gets a funny feeling in the pit of his stomach. Unfortunately, Rondo hates Keo and Yakkity and doesn't want them hanging around with his sister. Keo also has a job at the local Video Store and is a real film buff.

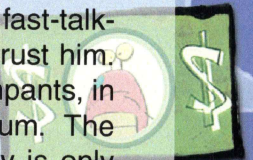

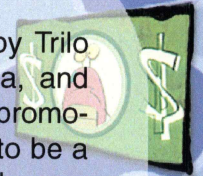

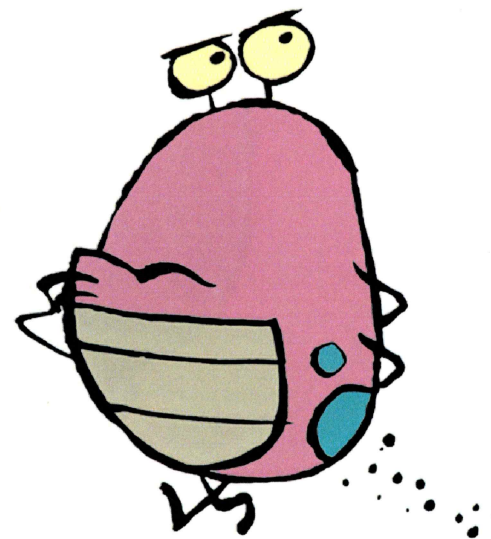

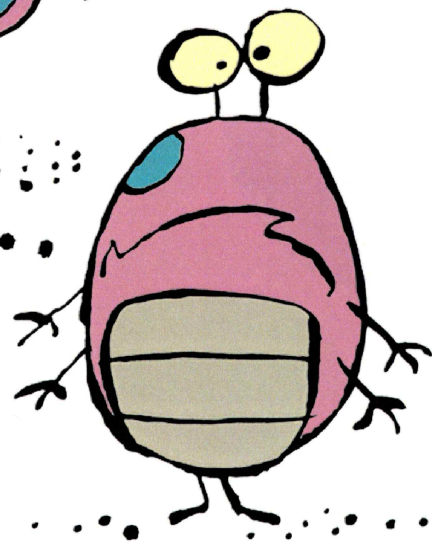

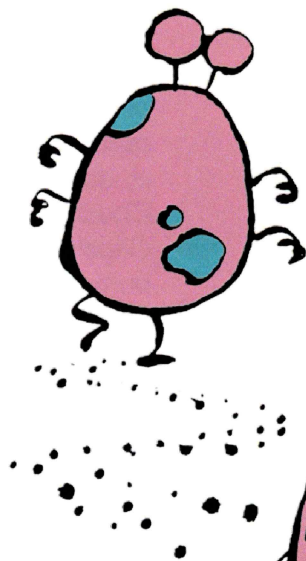

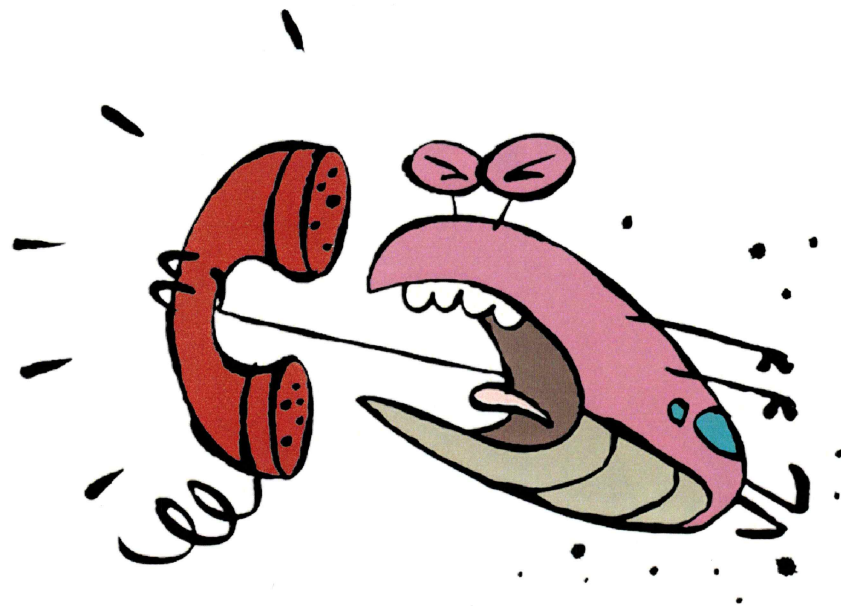

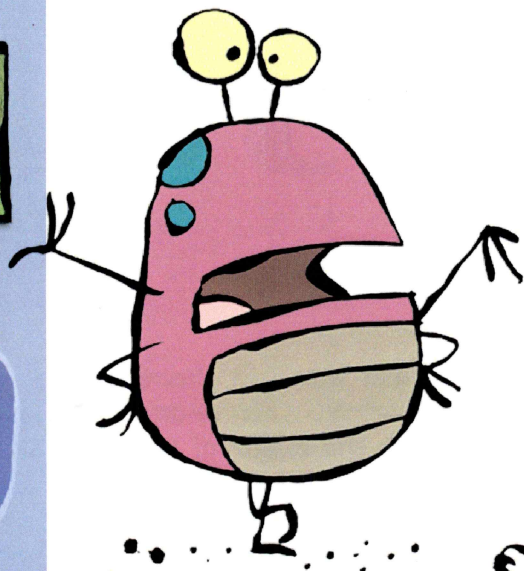

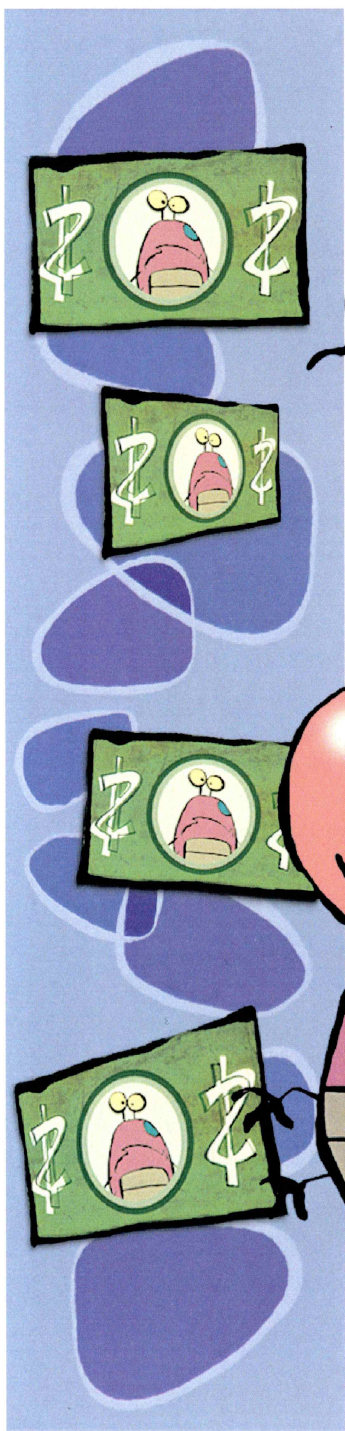

mr. trilobite

He's the shifty owner and booking agent of the shabby Trilo Entertainment Agency. He books Yakkity, Fairy Wanda, and Chuck Damage for children's parties, shopping mall promotions, weddings, and the occasional funeral. He claims to be a famous performer. But Mr. Highpants swears that Trilo was raised by a family of circus fleas who ultimately abandoned him when they realized he possessed no talent whatsoever. Trilo always brags to Yakkity whilst drawing on his 'vast experience as a showbiz legend'. He's always milking attention based on his relationship with his celebrity clients. Yes, Trilo is a fast-talker. As a result, none of the adults in Lambton really trust him. Trilo has a feud going with Candy Store owner Mr. Highpants, in spite of the fact that he loves Mr. Highpants' bubble gum. The chewing helps relieve his tension, as the Trilo Agency is only one step away from bankruptcy. With this state of affairs, it doesn't take much to set Trilo off on a rant. Lambton is a small town, and there are not a lot of venues for his people. Trilo always gives Yakkity the bad gigs, the ones that Chuck and Wanda won't do. After all Yakkity is just a kid. He's gotta pay his dues like the rest of them.

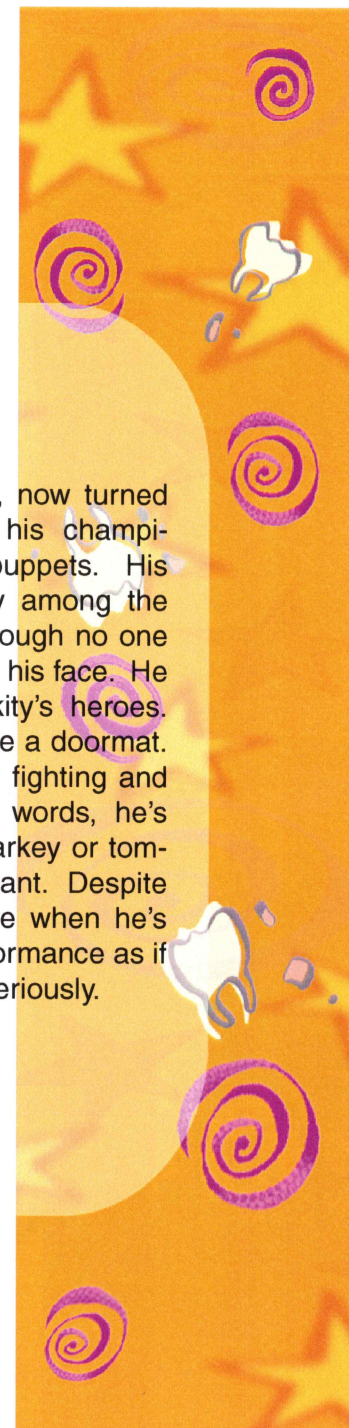

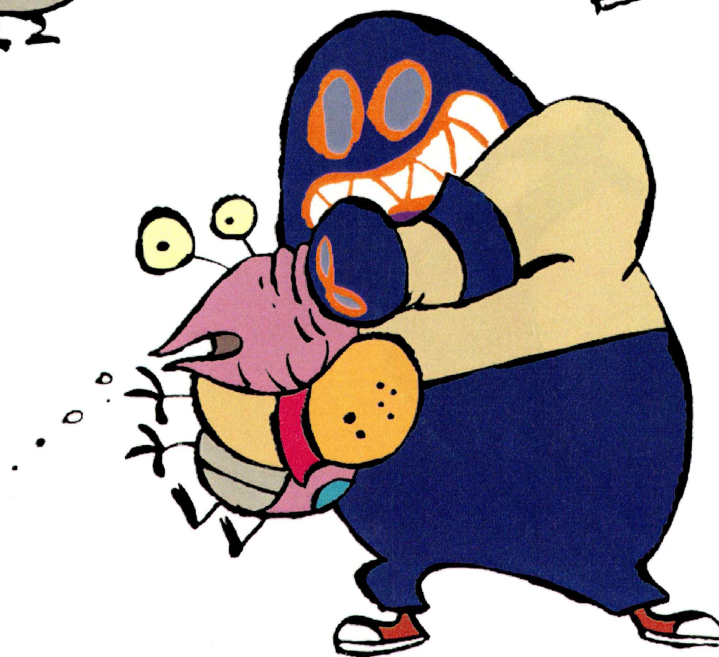

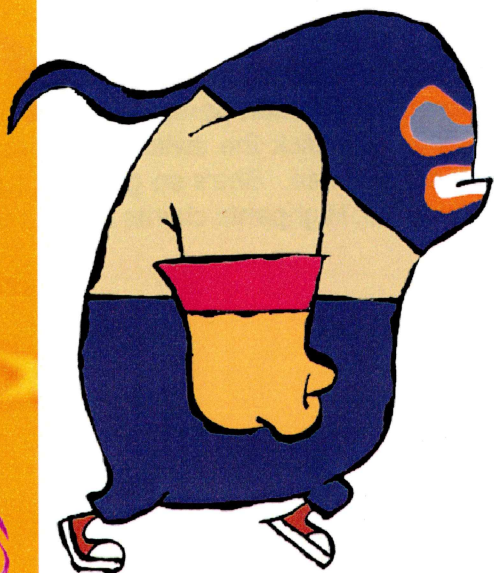

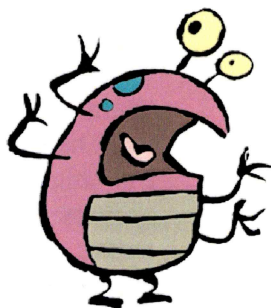

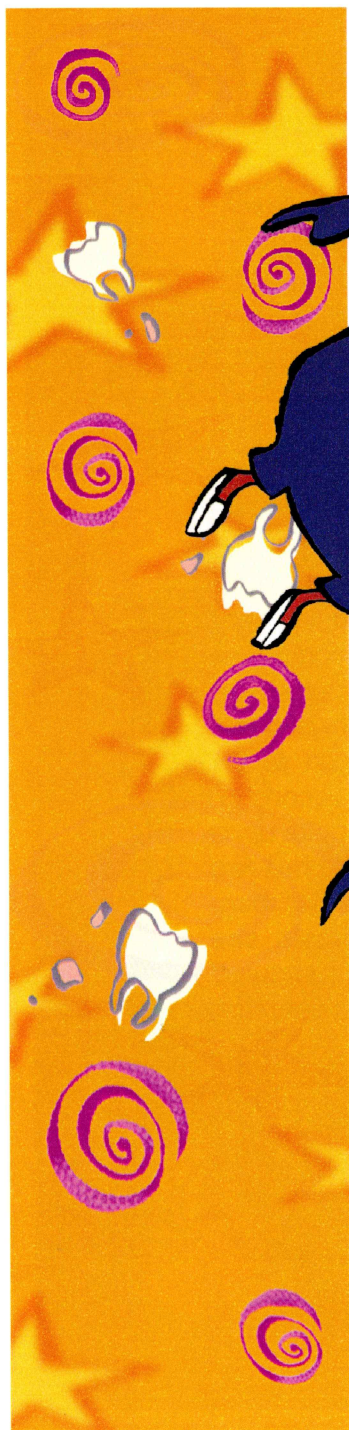

chuck damage

Chuck is a former wrestling champion, now turned children's entertainer. He re-enacts his championship days with the magic of hand puppets. His shows are hugely popular, particularly among the boys. He is quite a local celebrity, although no one really knows who he is or has ever seen his face. He is an enigma. Chuck is one of Yakkity's heroes. Chuck senses this and treats Yakkity like a doormat. Chuck has an attitude born of years of fighting and pummeling other wrestlers. In other words, he's tough. He can't stand any kind of malarkey or tom-foolery. This makes Yakkity a prime irritant. Despite his gruffness, Chuck really comes alive when he's performing. He treats each puppet performance as if it's a real fight. He takes himself very seriously.

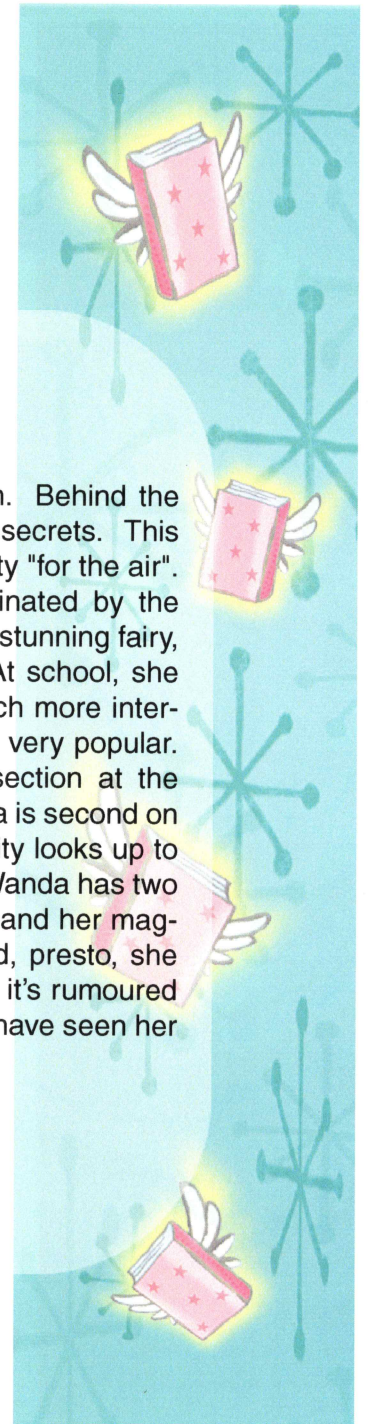

fairy wanda

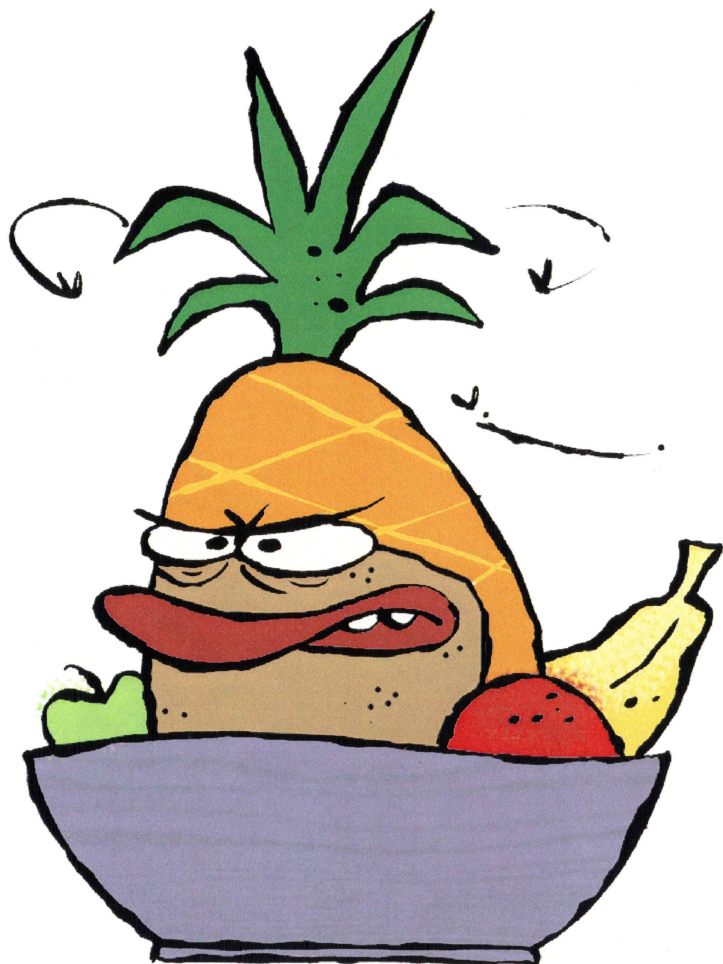

Wanda Lewinsky is the school's new librarian. Behind the shy smile and stylish glasses she has a few secrets. This young woman arrived suddenly from the big city "for the air". Wanda finds Lambton charming and is fascinated by the local history. On the weekend she turns into a stunning fairy, the children, particularly the girls, love her. At school, she certainly makes the trip to the library that much more interesting. She's seen as slightly eccentric, but is very popular. Wanda has also amassed a large fantasy section at the school library, which Lemony frequents. Wanda is second on the 'talent ladder' at the Trilo Agency and Yakkity looks up to her as a veteran of the entertainment scene. Wanda has two personas: her young, hip librarian personality, and her magical fairy personality. Just flick the switch and, presto, she lights up like a Christmas tree. She's so good it's rumoured Wanda is a real fairy. Mr. Highpants claims to have seen her fly.

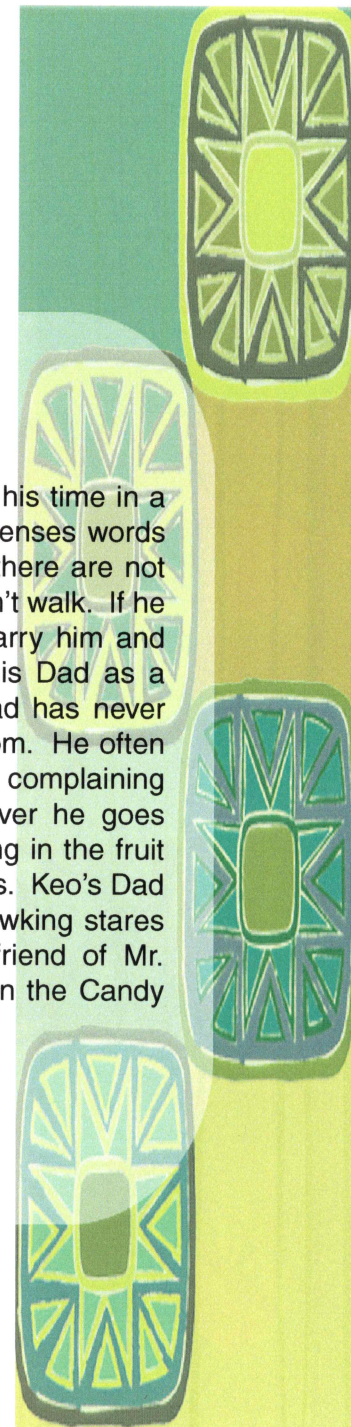

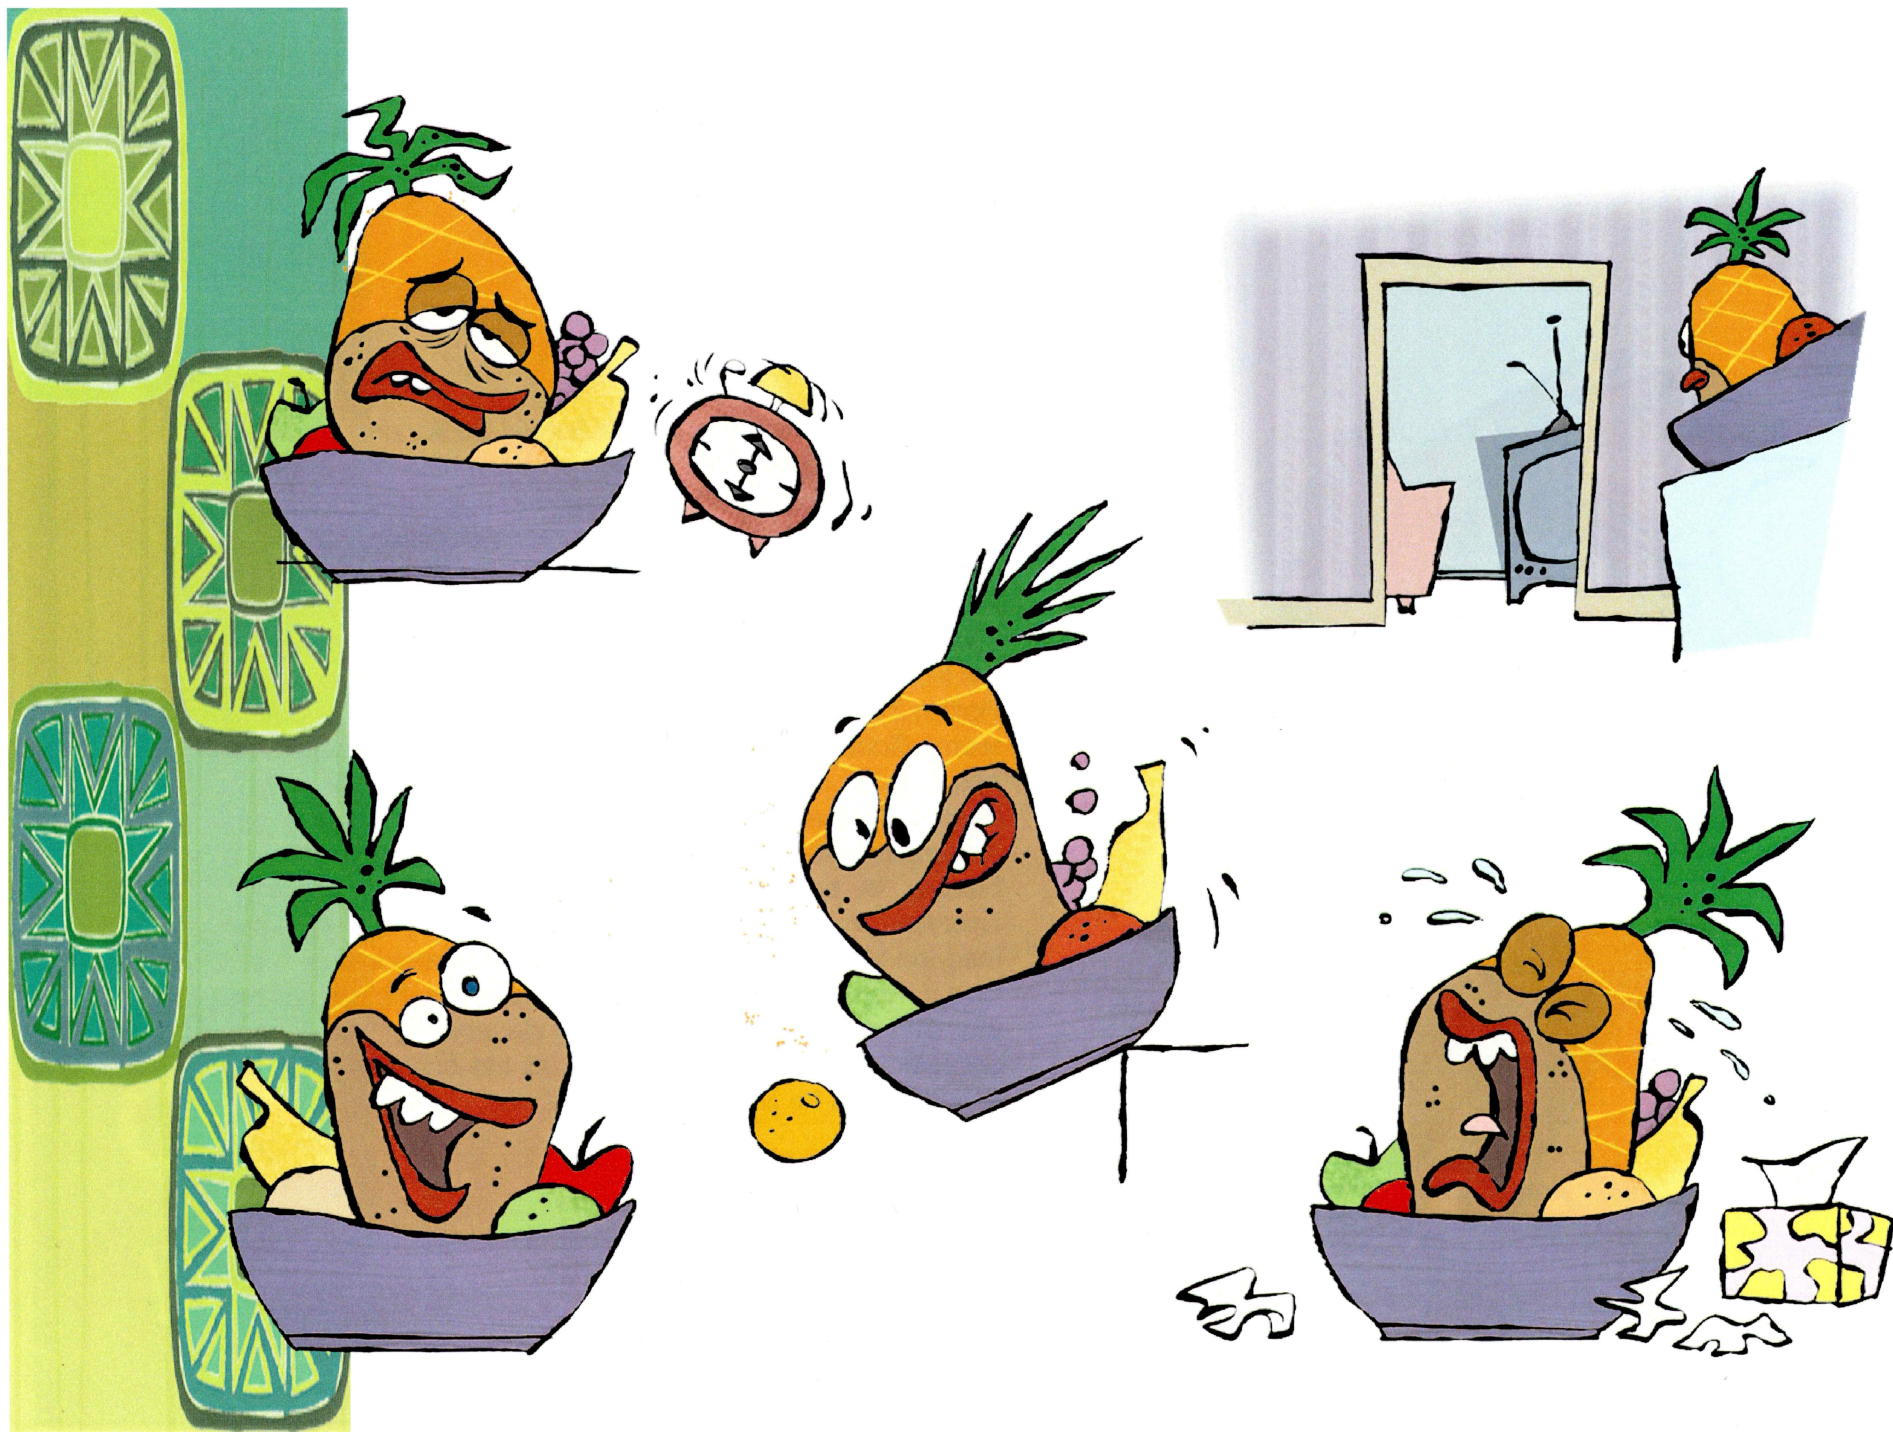

keo's dad

Keo's Dad is a pineapple. He spends most of his time in a fruitbowl on the kitchen counter where he dispenses words of 'wisdom' to anyone who comes near. And there are not many that do. Since he is a fruit, Keo's Dad can't walk. If he wants to go somewhere in town, Keo must carry him and everybody looks. As a result, Keo regards his Dad as a source of constant embarrassment. Keo's Dad has never gotten over his break up with Keo's actress Mom. He often spends hours watching her soap opera and complaining about her to anyone within earshot. Whenever he goes shopping with his son, he can be found loitering in the fruit and vegetable section, talking with the residents. Keo's Dad is a very proud pineapple and he hates the gawking stares when he goes out in public. He's a good friend of Mr. Highpants and spends a fair amount of time on the Candy Store counter.

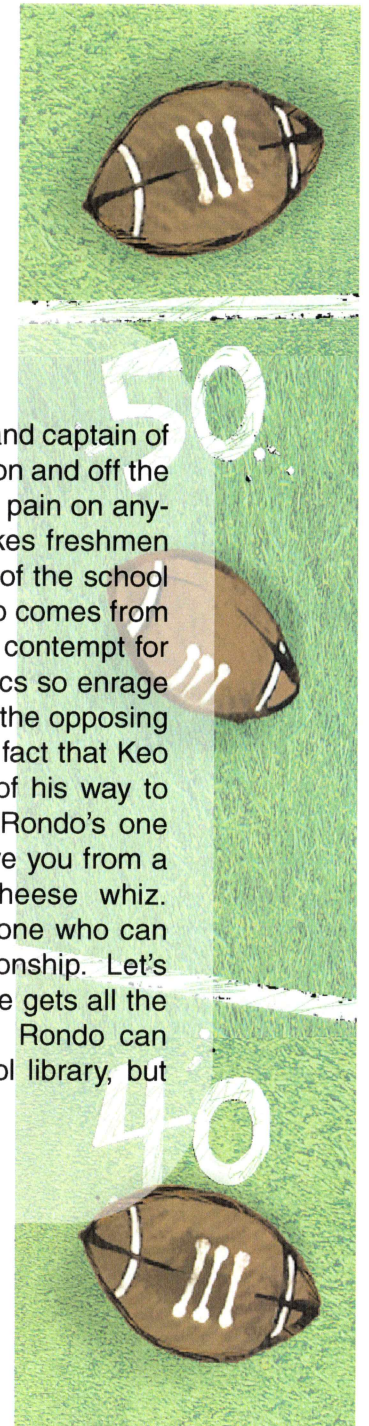

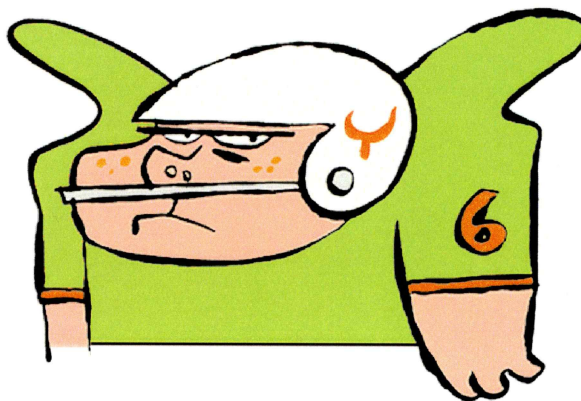

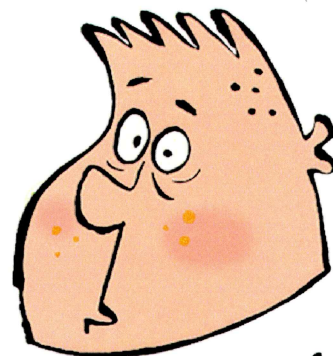

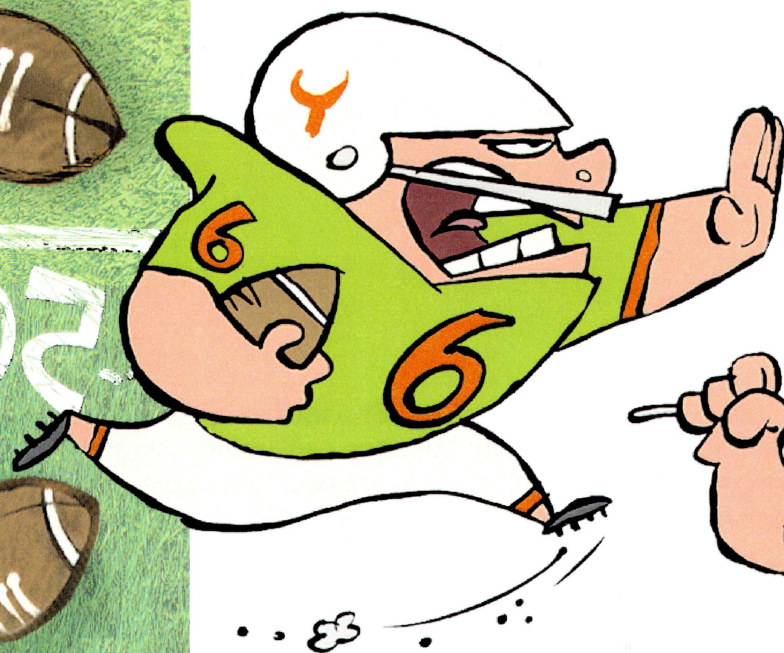

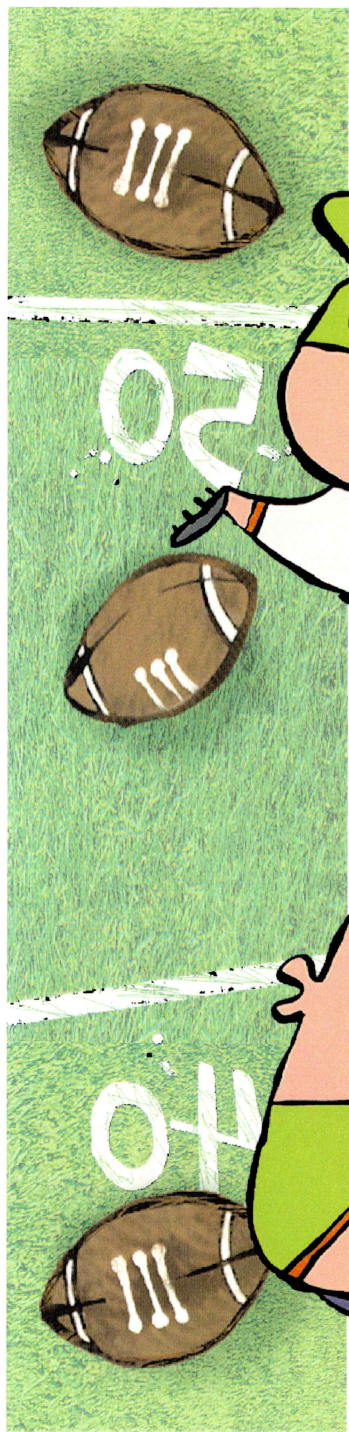

rondo jr.

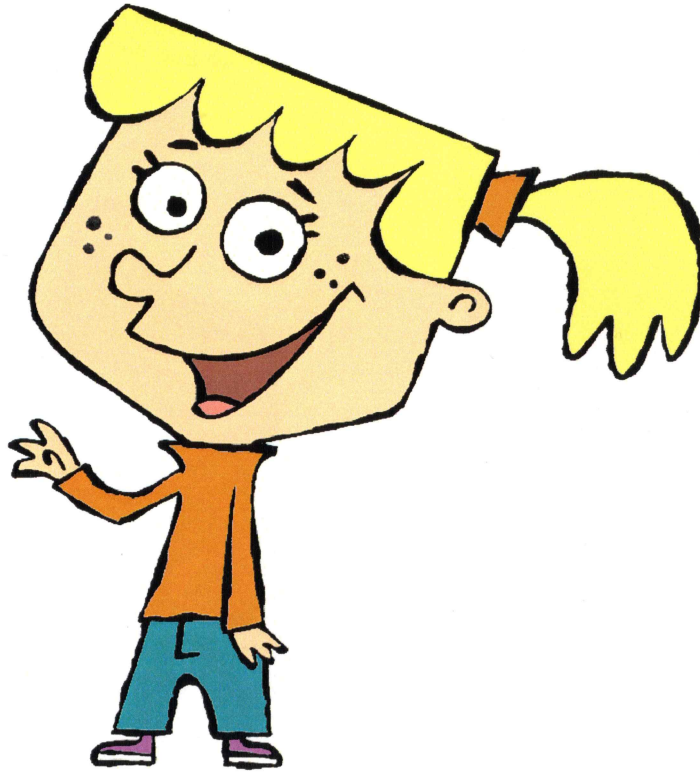

This ugly neanderthal is a High School Senior and captain of the school football team. He is a menace both on and off the field, delighting in inflicting mental and physical pain on anyone who crosses his path. He especially dislikes freshmen like Yakkity and Keo, which along with the rest of the school live in fear of the dreaded nipple cripple. Rondo comes from a long line of 'Yak-haters'. He has nothing but contempt for the team mascot. In fact, Yakkity's sideline antics so enrage Rondo that he ends up taking out his anger on the opposing team. Rondo also is extremely irritated by the fact that Keo has a crush on his little sister. He goes out of his way to make sure that they never end up together. Rondo's one weakness is food. The only thing that will save you from a beating is an offering of hot dogs and cheese whiz. Everyone loves Rondo because he's the only one who can lead the football team to the provincial championship. Let's face it, Rondo's the school hero. As a result, he gets all the attention even though he doesn't deserve it. Rondo can occasionally be seen helping out at the school library, but only because he likes Fairy Wanda.

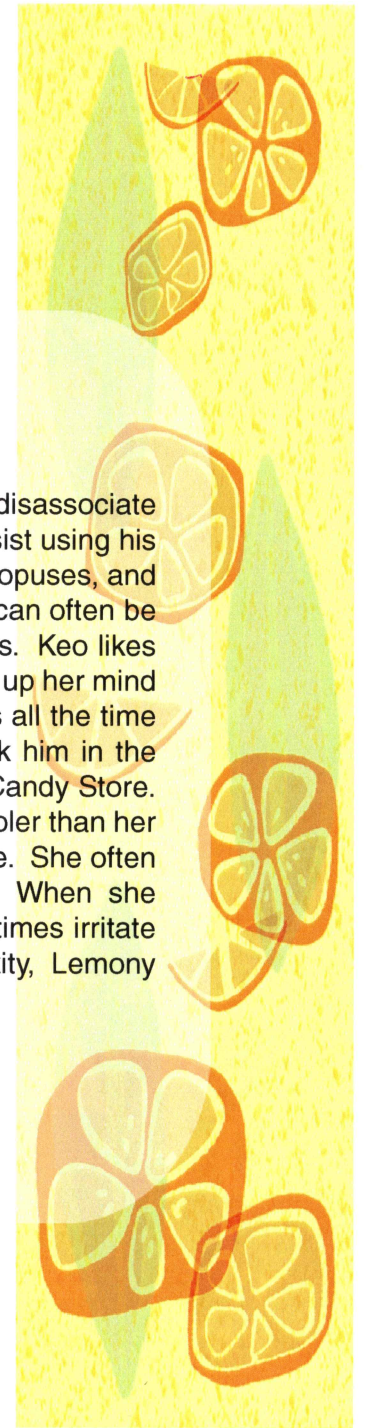

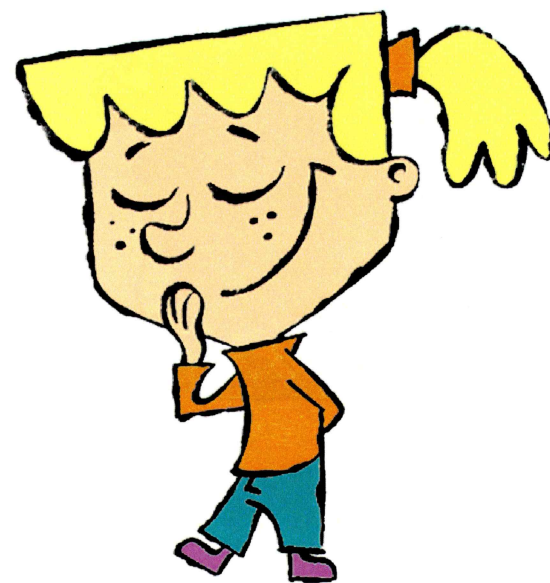

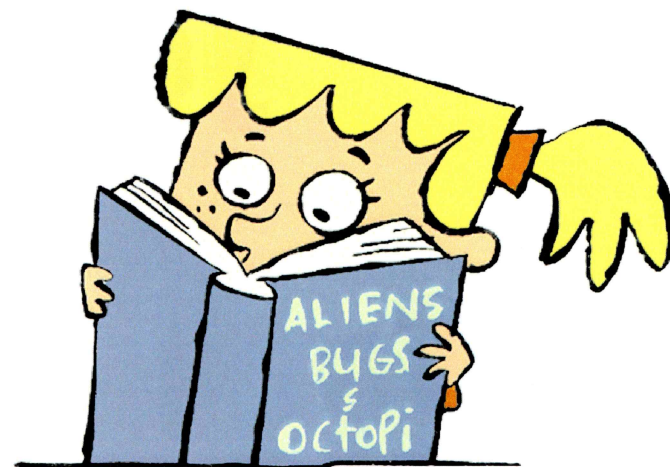

lemony

Lemony is Rondo's younger sister. She tries to disassociate herself from her older brother, but often can't resist using his influence to her advantage. She likes aliens, octopuses, and anything fantastical, like Fairy Wanda. Lemony can often be found in the school library reading fantasy books. Keo likes Lemony, and she knows it. But she hasn't made up her mind about him yet. So she sends him mixed signals all the time and delights in holding his attention. She'll kick him in the shins and then turn around and ask him to the Candy Store. Lemony is a bit of a cool customer. Certainly cooler than her brother, which she reminds him from time to time. She often pokes fun at her meat-headed, jock brother. When she makes a joke, it's usually funny. This can sometimes irritate Yakkity's comedic competitiveness. Like Yakkity, Lemony finds the lure of the city to be exciting.

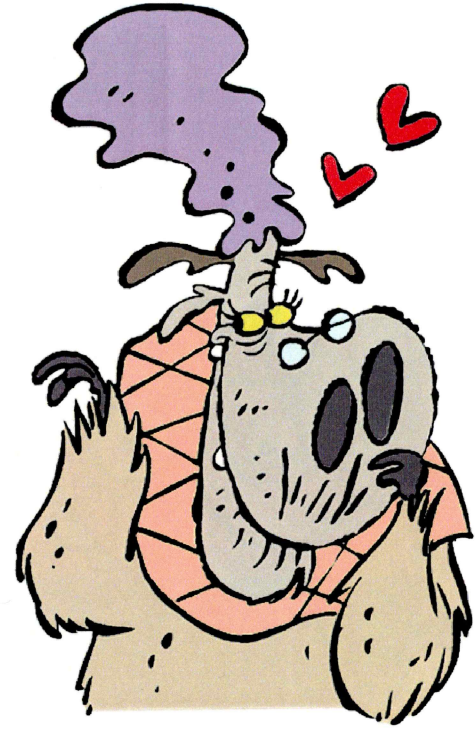

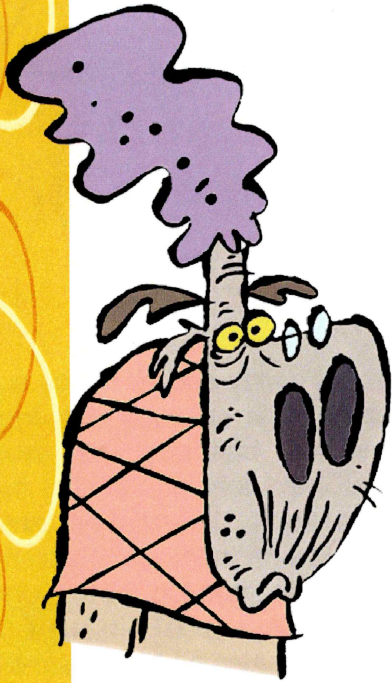

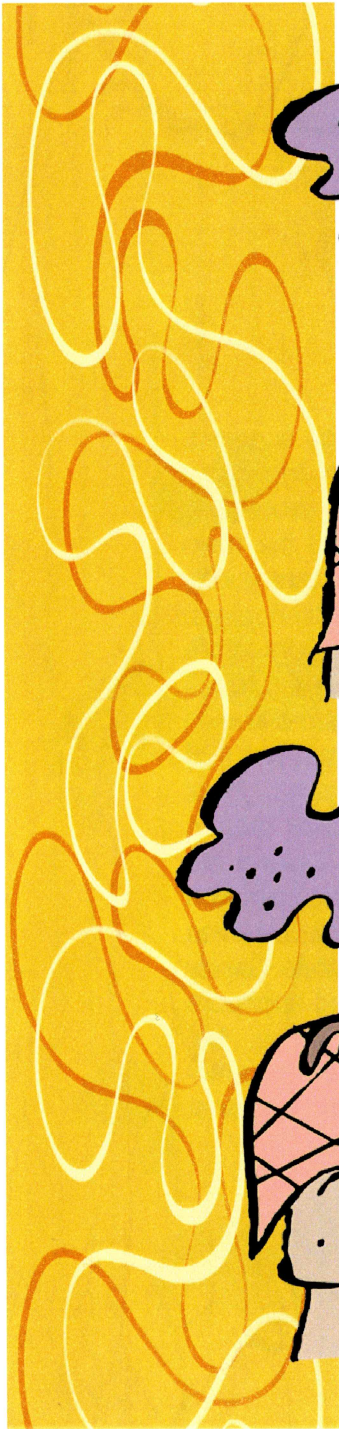

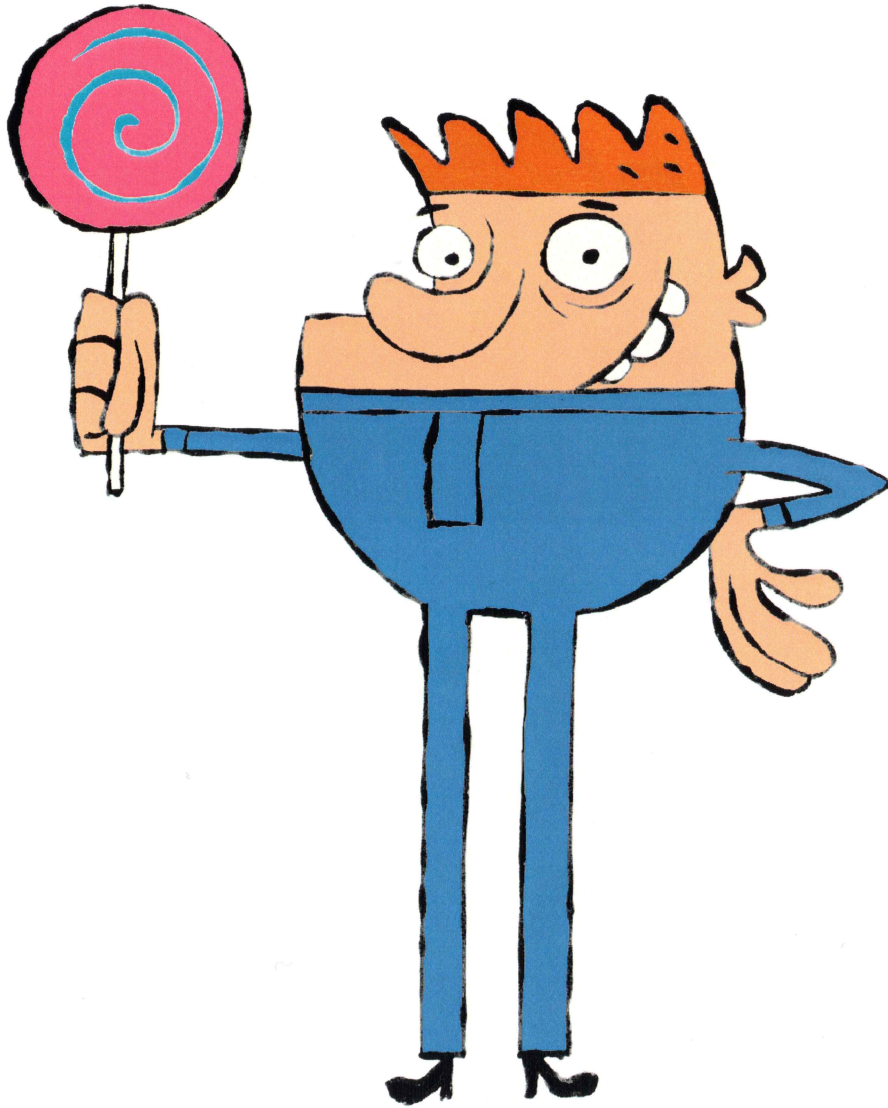

yakkity's granny

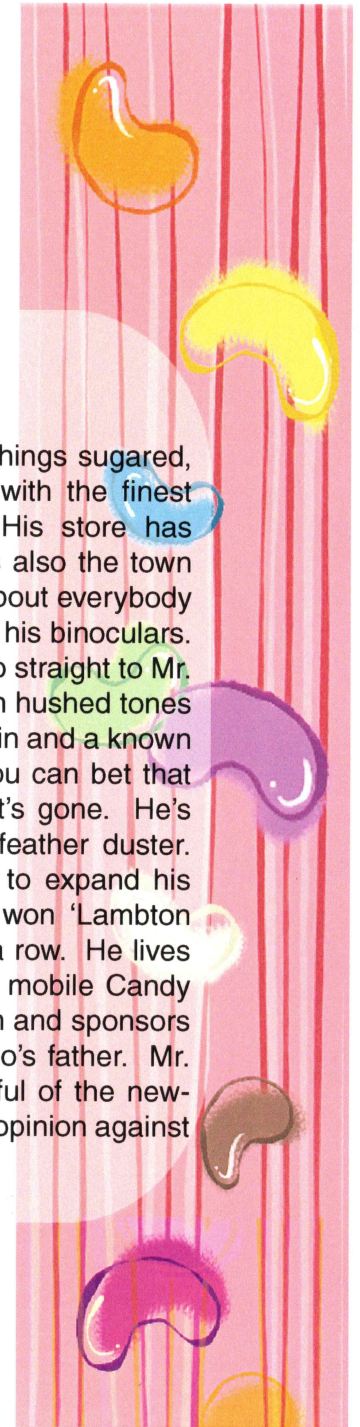

Hidden behind an unbelievably huge ball of wool sits Yakkity's Granny. She takes care of Yakkity. Her knitting is ferocious and Yakkity is never short of sweaters or woolly hats. In fact, the entire house is covered with knitted paraphernalia. Granny is a happy-go-lucky sort of old gal with lots of folksy, Yak wisdom. She's seen it all before and is always there with a good proverb. She takes her task of raising Yakkity very seriously. As far as Granny is concerned, Yakkity's destiny is to cheer on the Lambton Football Team to another provincial championship like his Grandfather did before him. She's always regaling Yakkity with tales of his Grandfather's exploits. She definitely doesn't approve of this Mr. Trilo character and his Agency. Granny is always there with a cup of cocoa or some freshly baked cookies. Although she's old, Granny has still got plenty of 'oomph' left. She drives an old, wood-paneled station wagon. She also rents out her basement to Professor Crazy Hair and has taken quite a liking to him. Granny is aching for the Professor to ask her out for a night on the town. She's always dropping hints, but the Professor never notices. More often than not, Granny falls asleep early in the evening, enabling Yakkity to slip out and meet Keo.

mr. highpants

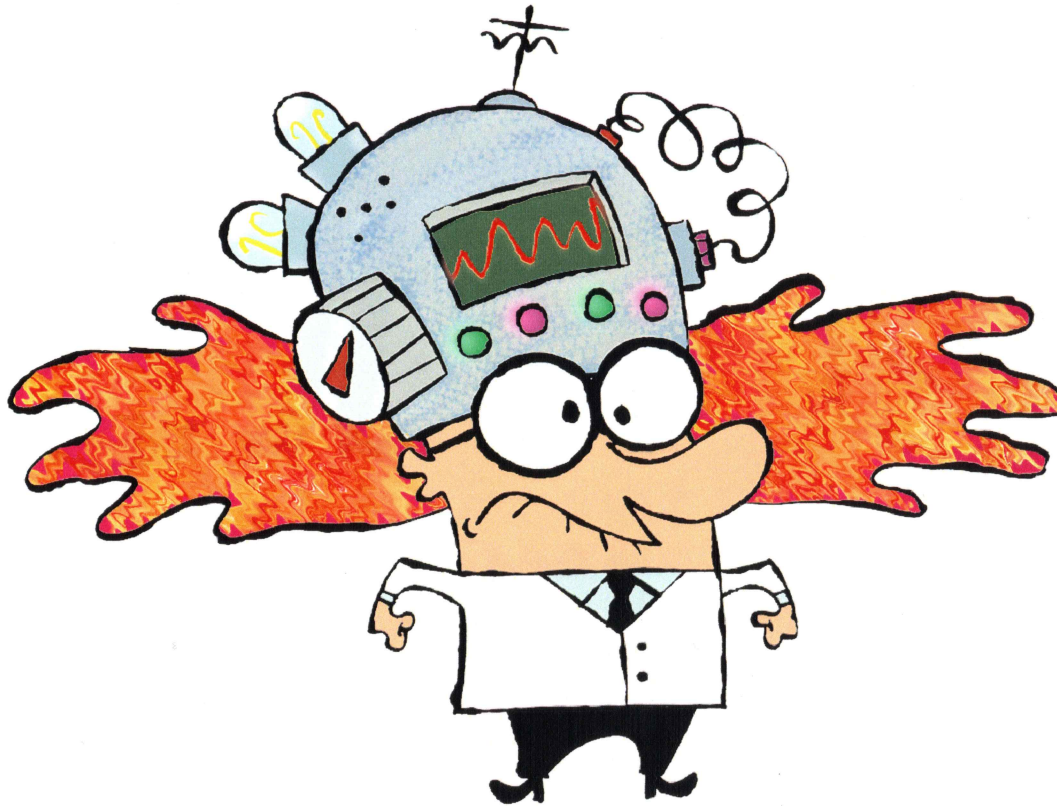

The town's leading vendor of candy and all things sugared, Mr. Highpants keeps his clientele supplied with the finest quality confections that money can buy. His store has become the local hangout. Mr. Highpants is also the town gossip. He loves to grill Lambton residents about everybody else's personal problems or spy on them with his binoculars. If you want to spread a rumour in Lambton, go straight to Mr. Highpants' Candy Store. He always speaks in hushed tones with an eye out for the door. He's also a bit vain and a known snoop. If you forget anything in his shop, you can bet that he'll have his nose in it before you realize it's gone. He's most often seen tizzing his shelves with a feather duster. He's proud of his famous shop and uses it to expand his already large ego. The Candy Store has won 'Lambton County's Best Shop of the Year' 17 years in a row. He lives above his shop and drives around town in a mobile Candy van. Mr. Highpants is a shrewd business man and sponsors local events. He's also good friends with Keo's father. Mr. Highpants is especially jealous and mistrustful of the new-comer Trilo and is always trying to turn public opinion against him.

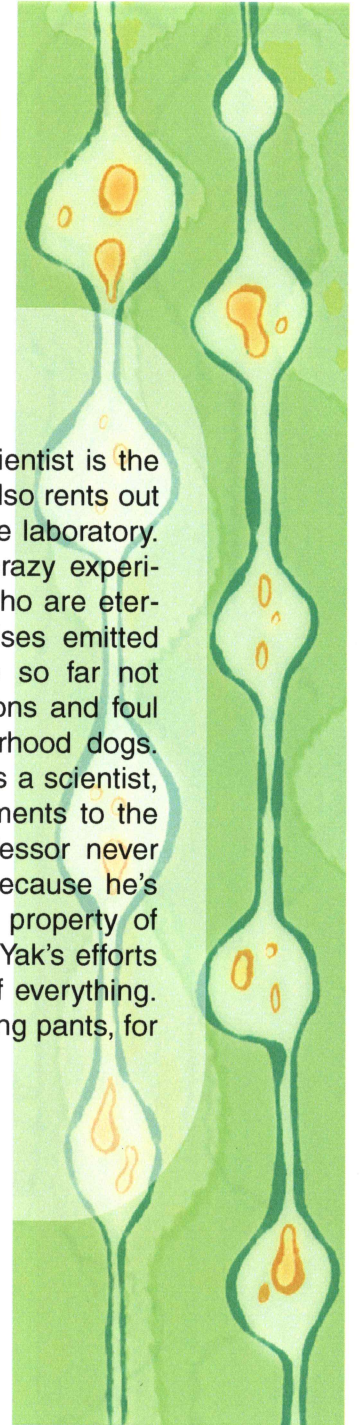

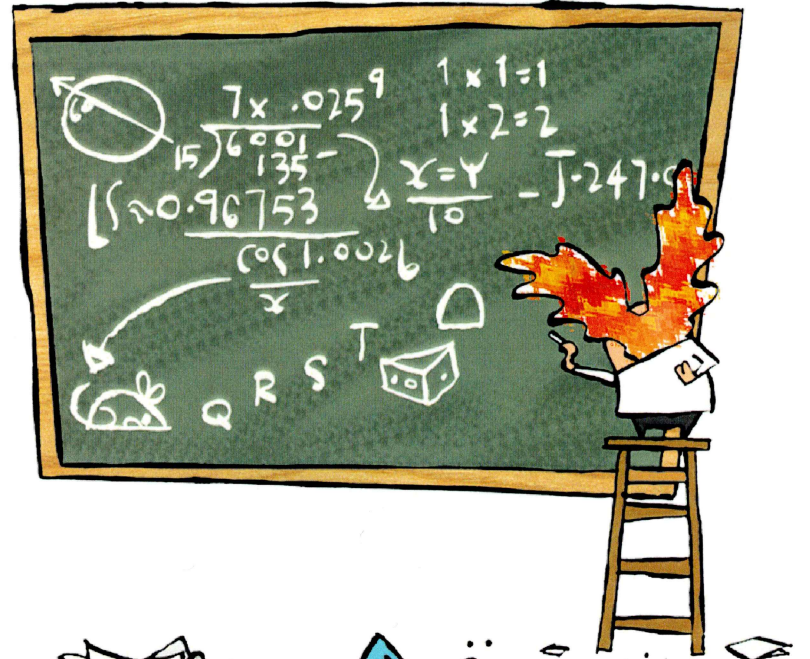

professor crazy hair

This stereotypically eccentric inventor/scientist is the science teacher at Yakkity's school and also rents out his Granny's basement as a small private laboratory. He has access to guinea pigs for his crazy experiments in the form of Yakkity and Keo, who are eternally curious about the smells and noises emitted from his room. His experiments have so far not proved fatal, but the earsplitting explosions and foul smells have even silenced the neighborhood dogs. The Professor is a man of few words. As a scientist, he is perpetually focused on his experiments to the exclusion of everything else. The Professor never notices anything going on around him because he's always thinking about some formula or property of matter. He is totally oblivious to Granny Yak's efforts to go on a date. In fact, he's oblivious of everything. He is always forgetting things. Like wearing pants, for instance.

YAKKITY YAK

Keo: his best pal, with whom there are no secrets.
Trilo: looks up to Trilo and sees him as his ticket out of Lambton.
Rondo Jr.: thinks Rondo is stealing all of his attention.
Granny Yak: sees Granny as his loving, but a little behind the times, grandmother.
Mr. Highpants: thinks Mr. Highpants is a big fan.
Professor Crazy Hair: sees the Professor as an adult ally who needs a better appreciation of comedy.
Lemony: doesn't understand Keo's interest in her... or her jokes.
Chuck Damage: idolizes Chuck as one of his heroes.
Fairy Wanda: looks up to Wanda as a big time talent.
Keo's Dad: thinks he's odd, but respects him as the father of his best friend.

KEO

Yakkity: his befuddled, yet amusing, best friend.
Trilo: thinks Trilo is a big talker who doesn't do much.
Rondo Jr.: is afraid of Rondo's bullying ways.
Granny Yak: thinks Granny is a sweet, old Yak.
Professor Crazy Hair: thinks the Professor is a strange guy who builds crazy inventions.
Mr. Highpants: thinks Mr. Highpants talks too much about other people's business.
Lemony: is in looove with Lemony.
Chuck Damage: is afraid of Chuck's brutish ways.
Fairy Wanda: thinks Wanda is a sweet oddball.
Keo's Dad: is embarrassed by his Dad, yet respects him as a father.

LEMONY

Yakkity: sees Yakkity as another dumb boy.
Keo: sees Keo as a cute boy with promise.
Trilo: thinks Trilo is a fast-talking salesman.
Rondo Jr.: sees Rondo as her dumb older brother.
Granny Yak: thinks Granny is a sweet, old Yak.
Professor Crazy Hair: thinks the Professor is another out-of-touch teacher.
Mr. Highpants: thinks Mr. Highpants is a geek who wears his pants too high.
Chuck Damage: thinks Chuck is a cool, old sports hero.
Fairy Wanda: wants to be Fairy Wanda when she grows up.
Keo's Dad: thinks Keo's Dad is a major embarrassment.

MR. TRILOBITE

Yakkity: thinks Yakkity is a good kid... 'cause he signed over 50% of everything he makes.
Keo: thinks Keo might do well in a circus sideshow.
Rondo Jr.: thinks the kid has a bad attitude, but a good arm.
Granny Yak: thinks she's a sweet, old Yak.
Professor Crazy Hair: thinks the Professor is a nutcase, but gave him his card just in case he invents something interesting.
Mr. Highpants: sees Mr. Highpants as the proverbial thorn in his side.
Lemony: thinks Lemony is a cute kid.
Chuck Damage: idolizes Chuck as one of the cornerstones of his business.
Fairy Wanda: idolizes Wanda as the other cornerstone of his business.
Keo's Dad: Who?

PROFESSOR CRAZY HAIR

Yakkity: thinks Yakkity could be a good student if he applied himself more.
Keo: sees Keo as a fine student.
Trilo: thinks Trilo is a strange man who hands out business cards and talks too much.
Rondo Jr.: thinks he's another athlete who gets away with being a bad student because he's good at football.
Granny Yak: sees Granny as his landlady who is very interested in science.
Mr. Highpants: thinks Mr. Highpants is a fine purveyor of sweets.
Lemony: thinks Lemony is a smart girl who has a great future in science.
Chuck Damage: sees Chuck as another brutish and dumb athlete.
Fairy Wanda: sees Wanda as a delightful woman.
Keo's Dad: sees Keo's Dad as his unfortunate next-door neighbour.

CHUCK DAMAGE

Yakkity: sees Yakkity as an annoying fan.
Keo: sees Keo as a not so annoying fan.
Trilo: thinks Trilo is privileged to be working with him.
Rondo Jr.: thinks Rondo is a smart kid who might make a good wrestler someday.
Granny Yak: sees Granny as one of his older fans.
Professor Crazy Hair: thinks the Professor is another wimpy egghead.
Mr. Highpants: thinks Mr. Highpants sells good candy but asks too many questions.
Lemony: sees Lemony as a lippy kid.
Fairy Wanda: respects Wanda as an entertainer but doesn't understand what she does or who she's supposed to be.
Keo's Dad: thinks Keo's Dad is food.

MR. HIGHPANTS

Yakkity: sees Yakkity as an odd, but good customer.
Keo: sees Keo as a fine customer and son of one of his good friends.
Trilo: sees Trilo as a fast-talking city slicker.
Rondo Jr.: one of his best customers because he eats like a horse.
Granny Yak: thinks Granny is a troublemaker.
Professor Crazy Hair: thinks the Professor is nutty.
Lemony: thinks Lemony is a precocious young-girl, who's too smart for her own good.
Chuck Damage: sees Chuck as an old sports hero with an intriguing past and a great appetite.
Fairy Wanda: sees Wanda as a delightful eccentric with a sweet tooth.
Keo's Dad: his old friend and fellow gossip.

GRANNY YAK

Yakkity: her beloved grandson who she thinks should devote more time to being a good mascot than any foolish dreams of comedic fame.
Keo: thinks Keo has a good head on his shoulders, even if it is a pineapple.
Trilo: sees Trilo as a man from the city planting foolish dreams into her grandson's head.
Rondo Jr.: thinks Rondo is a good boy.
Professor Crazy Hair: thinks the Professor is a handsome and dashing inventor and is aching for him to notice her.
Mr. Highpants: thinks he's a gossip who sells too much junk food to the kids.
Lemony: thinks Lemony is a good girl.
Chuck Damage: sees Chuck as a thrilling, old-time sports hero; she's a big fan of his.
Fairy Wanda: thinks Wanda is a few bricks short of a load, but harmless.
Keo's Dad: sees Keo's Dad as her nice, but unfortunately shaped, neighbour.

RONDO JR.

Yakkity: thinks Yakkity is a lame weirdo who he loves to punch.
Keo: thinks Keo is the lame weirdo's friend who he also loves to punch.
Trilo: thinks Trilo is some dumb guy who gave him a business card.
Granny Yak: thinks Granny is another weird Yak.
Professor Crazy Hair: sees the Professor as a strange teacher.
Mr. Highpants: sees Mr. Highpants as a source of good candy and good information.
Lemony: thinks his little sister should stop talking to those two lame weirdos.
Chuck Damage: looks up to Chuck as a brutish hero and a good source of submission holds.
Fairy Wanda: thinks Wanda is awesome.
Keo's Dad: sees Keo's Dad as that lame weirdo's even weirder father.

FAIRY WANDA

Yakkity: thinks Yakkity is a silly young yak.
Keo: thinks Keo is a sweet young boy.
Trilo: sees Trilo as her humourous little boss.
Rondo Jr.: thinks Rondo needs some good fairy training.
Granny Yak: thinks Granny is a delightful old yak and a source of worldly wisdom.
Professor Crazy Hair: thinks the Professor is one of the more intriguing men in town.
Mr. Highpants: thinks Mr. Highpants has fabulous sense of fashion and colour.
Lemony: thinks Lemony is a fine, upstanding young woman and future fairy.
Chuck Damage: thinks Chuck is a brute, but would never tell him to his face.
Keo's Dad: is fascinated by Keo's Dad.

KEO'S DAD

Yakkity: fears that Yakkity is a bad influence on Keo.
Keo: sees Keo as a good son who still needs discipline.
Trilo: a stranger in town who is, therefore, not to be trusted.
Rondo Jr.: sees Rondo as a good boy and local football hero.
Granny Yak: sees Granny as his kindly next door neighbour.
Professor Crazy Hair: thinks the Professor is unstable and wishes he were boarding somewhere farther away.
Mr. Highpants: sees Mr. Highpants as a dear old friend.
Lemony: sees Lemony as a young girl who's too savvy for her age.
Chuck Damage: sees Chuck as a dangerous man.
Fairy Wanda: thinks Wanda is a delightful woman.

LOCATION..LOCATION..LOCATION

YAKKITY'S HOUSE.

Yakkity lives in a simple two-story dwelling that borders on farmland. It's not unusual to find a cow loitering in the backyard. Granny also keeps chickens in the backyard. Professor Crazy Hair rents out the basement of the house. Thanks to him, it resembles an odd synthesis of living quarters/laboratory. New inventions and abandoned inventions are strewn everywhere. House decor is typical of an old person's house: knick-knacks, doilies, quilts, and all manner of knitted items. Yakkity's room is a mess. In one corner there is a makeshift stage. There is also a full-length mirror for rehearsing.

HIGHPANTS' CANDY STORE.

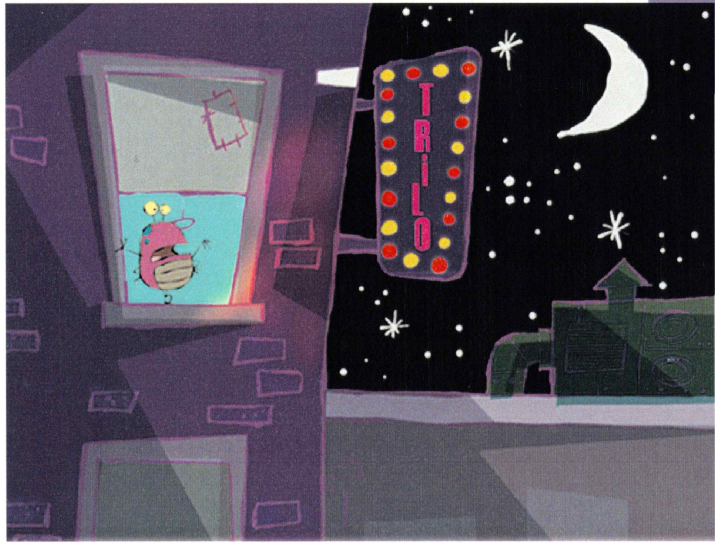

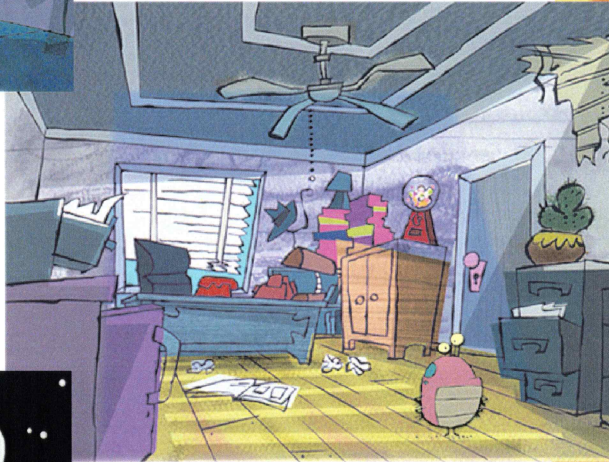

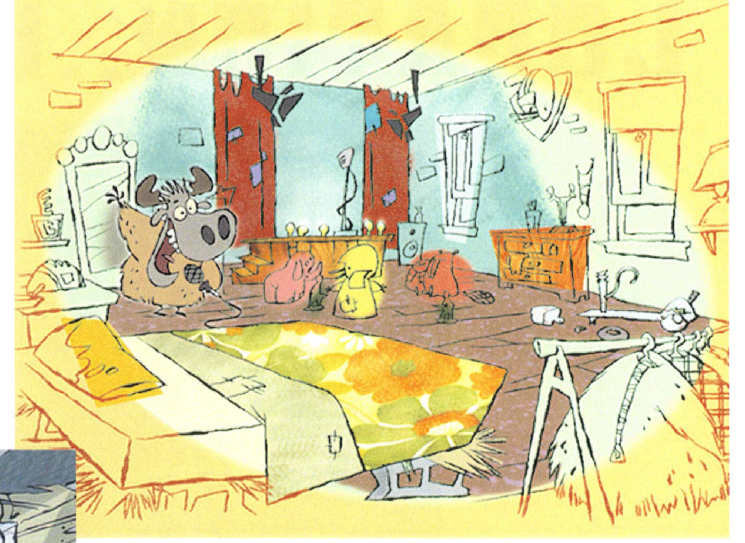

The Candy Store is Yakkity and Keo's hangout. It is also popular with all of the town's residents. It is a treasure trove of every candy known to man and Yak. Think Willy Wonka. There are also booths and a bar to sit at where you can get a soda. On the wall is a community notice board filled with strange messages. Thanks to Mr. Highpants' excessive attention to detail, order and neatness are the name of the game in this multi-coloured paradise. Mr. Highpants lives upstairs in a small apartment. From the upstairs window you can see the Lambton High School and its football field with binoculars.

TRILO ENTERTAINMENT AGENCY.

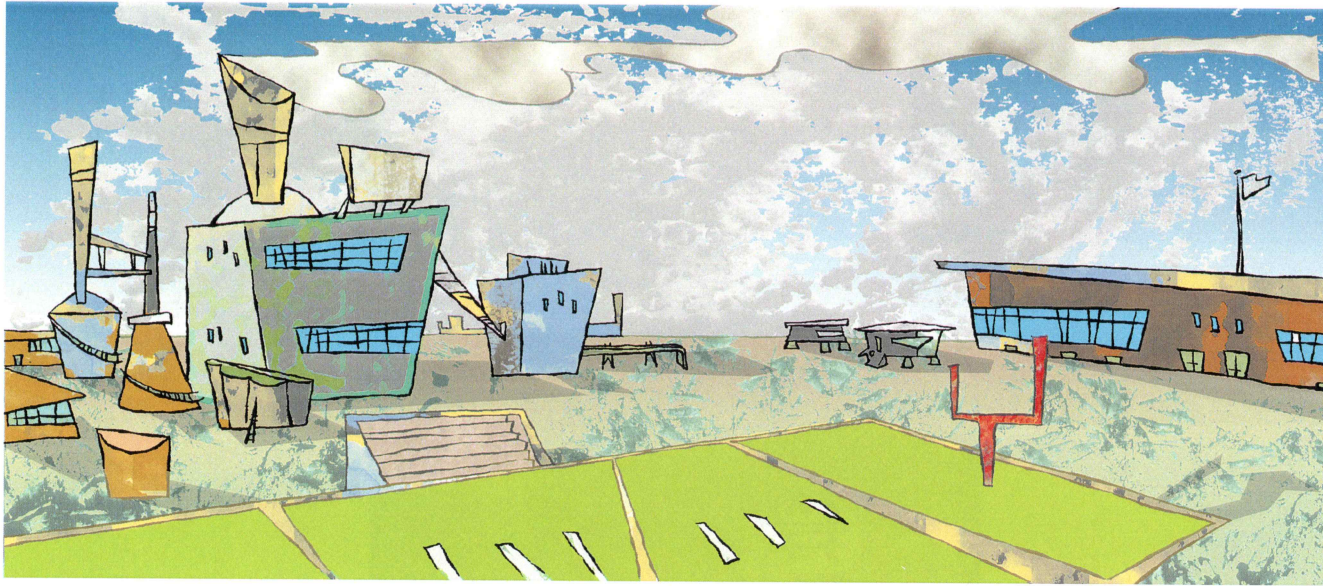

The Trilo Agency is a shabby, musty room (not unlike a stereotypical Private Eye's) with a crooked staircase. Lots of props and posters from old shows and circus acts adorn the walls. Trilo doesn't have much money and the place reflects it. Plus, bubblegum wads are stuck everywhere, courtesy of Trilo. There is a small waiting room and an adjacent rehearsal room too.

LAMBTON HIGH SCHOOL

Lambton High is a typical government institution. The building itself is ancient and creaky. Most of the school funds go into maintaining the football field - a veritable oasis among Lambton's dilapidated architecture.

LOCATION..LOCATION..LOCATION

LAMBTON HIGH SCHOOL

DOWNTOWN LAMBTON

YAKKITY'S HOUSE

EPISODE 1

"ITS FAIRY YAKKITY"

Lemony is organizing a party at Highpants Candy Store. When she hands out invitations, Keo gets one, but Yakkity doesn't (because he "smells bad"). As fate would have it, Trilo books Yakkity as the party entertainment. But there's a catch: Lemony wanted Fairy Wanda, but she's out of town.

Trilo convinces Yakkity to take her place. So Yakkity goes to the party dressed up as a Fairy. Lemony quickly begins to suspect that something strange is going on. Not so, her older brother, Rondo. He doesn't recognize Yakkity and is quickly bewitched by Yakkity's fairy 'beauty'.

EPISODE 2

"NIGHT OF THE LIVING YAK"

Keo shows Yakkity a leaflet for the upcoming Lambton Film Festival. The two pals conspire to make a Horror film and enter it in the Festival so that Yakkity can be 'discovered'. When Lemony finds out, she wants to be in the film too. The three of them sneak out at night and run rampant in the neighborhood.

The film shoot turns into a night of Comedy when Yakkity, Keo, and Lemony accidentally wake up Rondo from his slumber. Rondo follows them around and secretly terrorizes them with squirrels and tree branches. In the morning, Keo discovers that Yakkity has failed to put film in the camera

EPISODE 3

"LAUGH IT UP"

Feeling ignored, Yakkity is intrigued by an advertisement on the Candy Store notice board for "The Lambton Laugh Club". Thinking it will be a group of likeminded comedians, he decides to go check it out. He hops on his scooter and travels to the group's meeting place in a disused farm building.

Yakkity finds a strange self-help group who engage in weird breathing exercises, clapping, humming, group hugs, and, of course, lots of laughing. Yakkity joins in. Finally he's found a group of friends who laugh at everything he says, whether it's funny or not. Granny Yak starts to get worried.

EPISODE 4

"DR. JEKYL AND MR. YAK"

After Professor Crazy Hair blows up Granny Yak's basement for the fifth time, Granny evicts him. Yakkity and Keo help the Professor look for a new place to live. They settle on an abandoned castle located on a distant hilltop.

Isolated from the world, the Professor changes from a lovable teacher into a mad scientist whose evil creations plague the town and it's inhabitants. Yakkity and Keo are forced to invade the castle and bring the Professor over for dinner. Only Granny Yak's mashed potatoes can bring him back to earth.

EPISODE 15

"A YAK FOR ALL SEASONS"

It's time for another important Lambton football game. The team has to win if they want a chance at the state championship. All of Lambton turns out for the game. The play on the field is fierce, but nothing compared to what's going on the sidelines. Yakkity has a severe rivalry going with the other team's mascot, known only as "The Noodle".

Yakkity and the Noodle go toe to toe for the crowd's affection and laughter. Yakkity is hopelessly out-classed by the Noodle's sophisticated antics. As the game wears on, a veritable war develops on the sidelines as Yakkity becomes

EPISODE 16

"THE TORTOISE AND THE HARE"

Granny Yak is driving slowly down Main Street. Mr. Highpants tailgates her impatiently and honks his horn. At the first traffic light, Mr. Highpants and Granny get into a big argument. Granny ends up challenging Mr. Highpants to an 'Around Lambton Race'.

Granny, Lemony, Keo, and Yakkity hire Professor Crazy Hair to soup up Granny's station wagon. Mr. Highpants, Rondo, and Keo's Dad convert the Candy Store van into a hot rod. When the chequered flag comes down all the wheeling and dealing backfires.

EPISODE 17
"DOWN THE DRAIN"

The Trilo Agency is in desperate straights. If Trilo doesn't pay his rent in 24 hours, Lambton city hall will evict him. Mr. Highpants is ecstatic at the news. Yakkity gets the bright idea to hold a Celebrity Car Wash. Townsfolk can drive up in their cars, get them washed, and be entertained by top local acts.

Yakkity is excited to have a captive audience. Chuck Damage will wrestle on the hoods of cars. Professor Crazy Hair contributes a drive-through machine for the cause: a combination amusement ride and car wash. Unfortunately, Yakkity's audience is stolen when Rondo decides to hold a Football team car wash one block over.

EPISODE 18
"BOMB ORICATO"

The students of Lambton High are gearing up for the Science Fair. Yakkity and Keo need to create an impressive project to save their failing science grades. Yakkity decides to enlist the help of Professor Crazy Hair.

Won over by Yakkity's enthusiasm, the Professor stays up all night with them creating the ultimate invention: a homemade, joke-telling, seltzer-firing, pie throwing, 'comedy robot'. The hilarious Robot has everyone at the Fair in stitches. Insane with jealousy, Yakkity sneaks behind Keo and the Professor's backs to destroy the thing.

EPISODE 9
"JUMPING - JACK YAK"

The residents of Lambton throw a parade for the football team after a big win. The mascot is not invited. Yakkity is fed up with being ignored and resolves to quit once and for all. He convinces Keo to take his place so he can be free to pursue his comedic dreams.

Yakkity, acting as coach, puts Keo on a grueling schedule of calisthenics and gymnastics. He teaches Keo how to spell every letter of the alphabet with his body. Led by Yakkity's guidance, Keo is ready for his big debut at the next football match. On the day of the game, Keo gets stage fright. Yakkity pulls out all the stops to help his pal 'wow' the crowd. The Football team wins and Keo becomes the hero.

EPISODE 91
"BLUE RIBBON"

It's time again to announce the winner of the Lambton 'Store Of The Year' award. Mr. Highpants has won the trophy every year since he's been open and he's sure he'll win this year. When Mr. Trilo brags that he's going to take the award instead, Mr. Highpants plots to put Trilo out of business.

An all-out war of egos develops as each storeowner tries to discredit and defame the other. Both Trilo and Mr. Highpants enlist Yakkity and Keo to do their dirty work. The whole town gets dragged into it. Yakkity and Keo realize that it's up to them to end the escalating nonsense.

EPISODE 92
"RING AROUND THE YAK"

Lambton is in a tizzy. For one night only, Chuck Damage is having a wrestling re-match against his old nemesis "Dr. Fang" at the local auditorium. It's the hottest ticket in town. Yakkity and Keo desperately scrounge for tickets. Finally they succeed in getting a pair of front row seats. For the first time, Yakkity gets a taste of a really big crowd...and he's hooked.

The wrestling match is epic in proportion. It's teenage heaven. Then, the Referee gets knocked out cold. Yakkity disguises himself as the new Ref and infiltrates the ring. In the midst of the fight, Yakkity uses the ring as a platform for his latest routine. Chuck and Dr. Fang are not amused.becomes desperate to out-do his opponent. In the end, the battle causes the game to be lost. Yakkity is ready to hang up his antlers.

EPISODE 99
"THE MAGICAL MYSTERY YAK"

The Trilo Entertainment Agency is going on a tour of the big city. Trilo tells Yakkity he's not good enough to go. Determined to prove Trilo wrong, Yakkity and Keo hop on Yakkity's scooter and bid farewell to Lambton.

They arrive in the big city and are quickly dazzled by the fast-paced life. Yakkity and Keo explore all the sights and sounds of the city as they try to catch up to the Trilo tour. Unfortunately, they fall prey to con artists, cab drivers, and angry poodles. When Yakkity and Keo finally find Trilo they're both wearing barrels.